What:

April 5 is Pamper Your Pet Day at Las Vegas PETCO stores. All local pooches and their human parents are invited to a day of doggie grooming and spa treatments, nutrition and training tips, and a chance to win cool raffle prizes for pets and people. PETCO groomers – including mobile grooming crews with their signature pink vans – and dog trainers will be on hand to share their expert advice and training tips to help Fido behave well. Visitors arriving at the stores early will receive valuable giveaways.

Families with pooches of mixed pedigree can bark up the family tree by treating their dogs to a simple and painless dog DNA test to determine the mix of breeds that make them so unique. The first 10 customers to visit the Canine Heritage Breed Test booth at each location will receive a $20 discount on their breed test purchases. Company representatives will answer questions about the test, help customers swab their dogs' cheeks and process the paperwork. Test results are generally available after about four weeks and can help pet owners better understand their dogs' personalities and address potential canine health risks linked to particular breeds. One lucky family at each store will also win a free Canine Heritage Breed Test during the event's raffle drawing.

Pamper Your Pet Day is an event even for people who don't have dogs. Local animal adoption groups will be on hand at all stores to showcase adoptable pets that need loving homes. The first dog to find a new family at each location will head home with a free DNA test, courtesy of MetaMorphix, Inc, makers of the Canine Heritage Breed Test. Customers can also show their support for local animal shelters by making a donation to the PETCO Foundation's annual Spring A Pet campaign, underway at PETCO stores nationwide.

Other event sponsors include Eukanuba, Cardinal Treats, Digital Art Production, and Camelback Photography.
